

Collaborative Project Consulting

How would you like to excel in the delivery of your project?

Our team have extensive experience in partnering with over 50 different project managers and directors to create, develop and deliver complex and high profile projects across Australia and New Zealand. We consult to Project Directors, Boards and Leaders to ensure that the people and culture strategy aligns with the desired project outcomes. We often couple this with project specific coaching to reignite and enable the leaders within your project. Our clients contact us in the following scenarios:

- | Boards who wish to invest into their people potential for this project and the next
- | Project leaders who believe there is more potential than is embraced on the project
- | Owners and clients who wish to maximise value through their delivery approach
- | Project leaders who need to build a constructive relationship with the client or owner
- | Projects who are struggling with the pressures and demands of the project
- | Start-up leaders who are setting the strategy for successful delivery of the project

Our team have expertise partnering with leaders in collaborative, traditional, alliance, early involvement, planning, multidisciplinary projects and programs. We offer full dedication and commitment to help ensure we focus our coaching and advice on the appropriate phase of the project lifecycle.
